Money comes in many forms in the United States and in every country. Looking at the coins below, we can see that they are made of different materials, shapes and designs. Can you point out the differences?

What would your money look like if you made your own? How much would it be worth? Use our template on page 2 to create your own currency.

Steps:

1. Your money should be unique, and represent you.
2. Be sure to include the name, how much it is worth and the date it was made.
3. You could include a picture of yourself, a famous person you look up to, or family and friends.
4. If you don't want to use the money template below, get creative. Your money can be made out of tinfoil, an index card or anything you can imagine.
