

Pantomime

Materials:

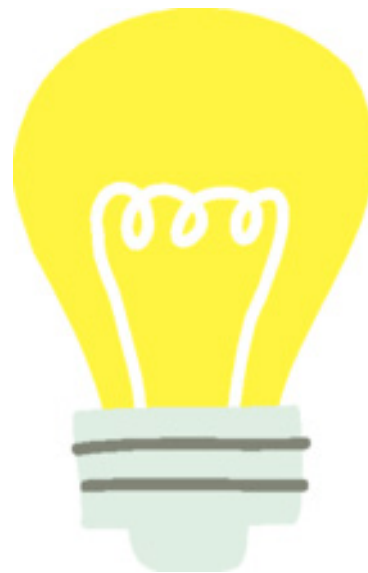

- Just you-and your creativity!

Want to tie this into a badge?

- Daisy Code for Good 2: Digital Game Design
- Daisy Mechanical Engineering Badges
- Daisy Robotics 1, 2 and 3
- Daisy Toy Designer
- Brownie Inventor
- Brownie Making Games
- Brownie Product Design

A mime is someone who acts things out without using any words. You might also think of charades. You have to communicate with people without using any words. How do you do that? How do people guess? How do we know when a mime is stuck in a box? (facial features, gestures, using your body, acting it out, etc.) Pantomime is just that.

Steps:

1. Think of an invention.
2. How does it work? How does it move?
3. Pantomime (act out without using any words or props) your invention to see if you can tell someone what it is...but remember: no words!

Who says the fun has to stop once your family guesses your invention?! Take a video of your pantomime and/ or a photo of your blueprint (and model, if you made it) and post it to your social media.