Travel Planning Resources

Travel offers Girl Scouts an exciting opportunity to plan and lead their own adventures while exploring the world. This creates a safe space for taking risks, building confidence, and developing new skills. Through researching, planning, teamwork, goal setting, budgeting, and more, they'll develop essential leadership skills while gaining a broader perspective on the world around them.

These are resources available for travel planning:

- GSCB Travel Support and Resources
- GSCB Program Guide and Event Calendar
- GSCB Property Reservations
- GSUSA's Girl Scout Guide to U.S. Travel
- GSUSA's Girl Scout Guide to Global Travel
- GSCB Travel Guidelines \(this document\)
- Birthplace Bound Troop Travel Planner
- Group Travel and Getaways
- WAGGGS Travel Centers
- GSCB Safety and Activity Checkpoints
- GSCB Money Earning Activity Policy and Guidance

Visit **www.gscb.org** to reserve a property through CampSpot and find council-sponsored events on our Events Calendar or the GSCB program guide.

GSUSA's resources offer valuable guidance on all aspects of travel, including travel progression, readiness quizzes, Girl Scout-led planning, roles of parents/guardians and troop leaders, engaging Girl Scouts in exploring their interests, trip planning details, cultural awareness, and more.

GSCB's Travel Guidelines accompany both GSUSA's travel guides and provide information regarding safety, required forms, travel planning, and more. These guides can be used as tools for planning a safe and successful experience. Keep in mind that Girl Scouts should participate in trip planning in a way that is appropriate for their grade level.

The Birthplace Bound Troop Travel Planner can be found on the Juliette Gordon Low Birthplace Museum website. It is your one-stop resource for streamlining trip planning, ensuring a fun Savannah experience, and creating memories that will last a lifetime.

Getaways or ready-made experiences can be found on the GSUSA website under Group Travel. These are curated events hosted by Girl Scout Councils and partners.

As a Girl Scout, you're automatically a member of WAGGGS, the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, which means you can visit the WAGGGS World Centers. These five incredible destinations—created just for Girl Scouts like you—are fun, affordable, and safe places to stay while you broaden your horizons and make new friends. Girl Scout members, troops, volunteers, and families are invited to join us for adventures in Mexico, Switzerland, England, India, and across the African continent.

Safety Activity Checkpoints (SAC) provide the standard safety guidelines for Girl Scouts of the United States of America (GSUSA) and Girl Scouts of the Chesapeake Bay-approved activities. Leaders should review the Safety and Activity Checkpoints to ensure they are meeting requirements for the activities they plan throughout the year.

The GSCB Money Earning Activity Policy and Guidance outlines rules for Girl Scout troops and members in the Chesapeake Bay Council to earn extra funds beyond council-sponsored programs. It covers eligibility, approved activities, safety guidelines, and the approval process for fundraising efforts.

Planning and Preparation

The leader assumes the responsibility of keeping parents/guardians informed of the itinerary, costs, and program activities. Activities should be planned with consideration for the physical and mental abilities, physical condition, and endurance of all members based on previous progressive troop experiences. Let's get you ready for your next adventure! When a group of Girl Scouts commits to partaking in a travel experience, it creates excitement and anticipation for all. Whether they are going to the Museum across town or traveling halfway across the world, we want to make sure you are prepared.

As you begin planning and preparing for the trip ahead, there are a number of items that need to be taken into consideration.

Timing of trip

- School schedule, weather patterns of the region, tourist season, etc.

Budget

- How much are those involved willing to pay for the experience?
- What are the primary expense items?
- What type of experience does the group want?
- Is the expectation of a 4-star hotel or a cabin at a campground?

Financing the Trip

- How will those involved pay for the trip?
- What are the opportunities to engage in additional money-earning activities?

Transportation

- What modes of transportation will you take?
- Are contracts or certificates of insurance required?

Itinerary

- What are your travel dates, and do they include travel time?
- How will the group decide on the activities they participate in?
- How will you document the itinerary and how will you provide it to caregivers/guardians?

Participants and Requirements

- How many adults and youths will participate?
- What are the requirements to participate?
- What forms will be required?

Adult Volunteer-to-Youth Ratios

Chaperones are the most important component of your trip. All adults who attend Travel Experiences must be registered and background-checked members of Girl Scouts.

Girl Scout to Adult ratios are different for events, travel and camping. They are as follows:

Travel/Activity Applications and Insurance

GSCB Travel and Activity Application

This form is not required for any day or overnight trips to GSCB properties.

This form is required for activities that must receive GSCB approval, these include:

- Overnight trips
- High-risk activities as defined by the GSCB Safety Activity Checkpoints
- Air travel
- International travel
- Girl, Troop, or Service Unit is partaking in a trip organized by another council or by GSUSA
- Local or Domestic Travel must be submitted 90 days in advance of the trip.
- International Travel must be submitted at least 12 months in advance of the scheduled trip.

Note: If a trip does not follow the Travel Progression chart, is not girl-led, or does not adhere to the Safety Activity Checkpoints, the trip will be rejected and must be amended and resubmitted. For these reasons, reservations should not be made prior to receiving approval.

Certificate of Insurance

This form is not required for any day or overnight rentals of GSCB properties.

This form is required for any of the following reasons:

- High Risk Activities
- Third Party Rental and/or when a usage agreement is in place
- Facility rental/usage, equipment, etc.
- Chartering a motorized vehicle.
- Whenever possible GSCB should be listed as the additional insured.
- Companies should have a minimum of $1,000,000 liability coverage to be considered as the location for your activity.

Note: a company/organization may in turn request that you provide a COI from GSCB that names the organization as an additional insured. Volunteers can view all current COIs that GSCB has on file here, both collected from vendors as well as provided to vendors.

Additional Activity Insurance

- Additional insurance Plan 1 will cover all members and non-members if they are invited to and or will be participating in a Girl Scout meeting, event or activity, including domestic travel. Please do not submit the Additional Activity Insurance form for PLAN 1. This insurance plan will be automatically applied to all members and non-member participants. Please see the Safety Activity Checkpoint guide for a list of activities that are not permitted.
- Volunteers have the option to purchase PLAN 3P of the additional insurance if they choose to but it will not be required.
- PLAN 3PI is required for international travel.

Note: The difference between the two plans is that PLAN 3P covers Accidents and Sickness for members and non-members and PLAN 1 only covers accidents for members and non-members.

Travel Progression

When moving up to the next step, consider each Girl Scout's independence, ability to work well in groups, flexibility, and experience with cultures other than their own.

Through progression, Girl Scouts build skills to become lifelong travelers and global citizens. Girl Scouts take the lead in planning a new adventure at every level.

Day Trips with No High-Risk Activities

Visit www.gsccb.org for council events and programs. You can also plan a visit to any of the GSCB camps!

Short trips to local points of interest (Daisies and older):

Daisies may need to take small steps to increase their confidence and comfort in traveling with the Troop. A walk to the nearby garden or a short ride by car or public transportation to the firehouse or courthouse is a great first step for Daisies. You can then graduate to day trips to local sights, for example in Baltimore, D.C., or Philadelphia.

All-day visit (Daisies and older):

An all-day visit to a point of historical or natural interest (bringing their own lunch) or a day-long trip to a nearby city (stopping at a restaurant for a meal)—younger girls can select locations and do much of the trip planning while never being too far from home.

Note: Full-day trips may be very challenging for Daisies, especially for kindergarteners who have not experienced short trips. Make sure girls take some short trips before they progress to a full-day trip.

Day Trips with High-Risk Activities

Brownies and older:

Day trips that involve high-risk activities—such as horseback riding, zip lining, climbing walls, or waterfront activities—require additional planning and support. These trips typically take place at program centers, camps, or outdoor facilities with trained instructors and proper safety equipment. Check what activities are considered high-risk on the GSCB Safety Activities Checkpoint.

Overnight Trips

Daisies and older:

A trip of one (or possibly two) nights away could start with one-night camping or staying at a Girl Scout property and progress to a visit to a state or national park or nearby city for sightseeing, staying in a hotel, motel, or campground—or even an overnight at a large museum! These short trips are just long enough to whet their appetites but not long enough to generate homesickness. A Daisy troop may participate in an overnight experience if the girls are ready. Brownie troops can participate in trips for up to two nights. There are exceptions for camp. Utilize the girls' interest in determining where to visit to make the trip educational and outside what the girl's parents may plan for a family vacation. Visit the GSCB website for GSCB property reservations, council-sponsored events, and to view the current GSCB Program Guide. Check what activities are considered high-risk on the GSCB Safety Activities Checkpoint.

Extended Overnight Trips: 3 Nights or More

Juniors and older:

Three or four nights camping or staying in a hotel or motel within the girls' home region—up to a few hours away from home. Utilize the girls' interest in determining historical sights and museums to visit to make the trip educational and outside what the girl's parents may plan for a family vacation. The Girl Scout Ranger Program is a great thing to consider when planning a trip to a national park. Visit the GSCB website for council-sponsored events and check out the current GSCB Program Guide. Check what activities are considered high-risk on the GSCB Safety Activities Checkpoint.

National Trips

Cadettes and older:

Cadettes and older can travel anywhere in the country, often lasting a week or more. Try to steer clear of recreational trips they might take with their families and consider those that offer some educational component, such as incredible cities, historic sites, and museums around the country. Perhaps the girls want to plan a trip to a national park as part of the Girl Scout Ranger Program. When Girl Scout groups are traveling within the United States, it is valuable to reference the GSUSA United States Travel Guide. International trips are available to Cadettes, Seniors, and Ambassadors but only to those who have successfully participated in the progression of overnight and extended trips within Girl Scouting. Always consider the girls' readiness for the next step in the travel progression, particularly for an international trip. When Girl Scout groups are traveling internationally, it is valuable to reference the GSUSA's Girl Scout Guide to Global Travel. Check what activities are considered high-risk on the GSCB Safety Activities Checkpoint.
